

Who Knew?

It is important to many Tokelau-born people nearing death to have all of their children and grandchildren visit them - even if these relatives live overseas. Traditionally a dying Tokelauan would have a special last meal of turtle, and permission for this last meal would be sought from the elders.

photo attribution: Michael Field, Fairfax, NZ

For more information about older Australians from Culturally And Linguistically Diverse Backgrounds visit www.diversicare.com.au or contact Diversicare on 07 3846 1099

This project received funding from the Australian and Queensland Governments under the Home and Community Care Program.